

PATHOLOGY AID

Are you a dedicated individual with a science background and a passion for contributing to patient care? Cross Medical Labs, conveniently located across the street from Mercy Hospital in Iowa City, Iowa, is currently seeking an applicant to be trained as a pathology aid to join our team. As a pathology aid, you will play a crucial role in supporting our pathologists and assisting with essential tasks in patient care. If you have at least an associate's degree with a science major, we encourage you to apply for this rewarding opportunity!

Position: Pathology Aid

Location: Cross Medical Labs, Iowa City, Iowa

Responsibilities/On-site training:

- Help prepare and process human specimens sent for pathologic examination. This represents the first crucial step in transforming specimens into slides that the pathologist can review under the microscope to render critical diagnoses. This process will provide valuable assistance to pathologists. The pathologists of the practice will provide all training necessary to a successful applicant in order that applicant will learn to process (i.e. "gross") specimens of low to medium complexity independently. Applicants will be taught how to handle high-complexity specimens in conjunction with the pathologists of the group.
- Maintain the highest level of professionalism and attention to detail in all aspects of work.
- Collaborate with the medical team and contribute to a positive work environment.
- Optional on-the-job training opportunities: 1) learning histotechnology skills (i.e. the latter steps of transforming patient tissues into slides); 2) learning immunohistochemical skills (i.e. special stains applied to patient slides)

Requirements:

- Associate's degree with a major in a science-related field.
- Genuine interest in pathology, medicine, and the well-being of patients.
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills to work effectively within our team
- Willingness to learn and adapt as on-the-job training will be provided.
- An eye for detail and the ability to singularly focus on the task of handling patient tissues.

Benefits:

At Cross Medical Labs, we believe in supporting our employees and promoting a positive work culture. As a valued member of this team, you will receive the following benefits:

- Competitive salary commensurate with experience and qualifications.
- Comprehensive medical and dental insurance coverage for you and your dependents.
- Generous vacation and paid time off to maintain a healthy work-life balance.
- Approximate 10% contribution to your 401(k) retirement plan to secure your financial future.
- Ongoing training and professional development opportunities to enhance your skills.
- Flexible work schedules to accommodate personal needs and commitments.
- Possibility of part-time employment if necessary.

Join us at Cross Medical Labs and make a meaningful impact on patient care through your expertise as a Pathology Aid. Apply now and become an essential part of our mission-driven organization.
